

ABOUT CG STRATEGY

CG Strategy has partnered with federal agencies to enhance organizational and programmatic effectiveness for over three decades. We apply research-based methods to the work of government, forging strong partnerships that drive meaningful improvements.

CG Strategy (CGS) is a woman-owned, small business specializing in organizational performance, strategic alignment, and program delivery support for mission-driven federal agencies. We have helped leaders cut through complexity, clarify priorities, and execute with discipline—bringing a pragmatic, data-informed approach that strengthens accountability and delivery of results to the American public.

We partner with agencies to design and implement practical solutions that streamline operations, eliminate inefficiencies, and enhance decision-making. Our work is informed by our deep understanding of the unique constraints, mandates, and opportunities in the public sector.

The CGS Benefit

Working with CGS feels different because it is different.

- We speak government. Our team understands agencies' missions, mandates, and expectations.
- We build trust. Our clients rely on us to guide high-stakes conversations and navigate complexity with integrity and respect.
- We stay through implementation. We don't just create plans—we help agencies act on them.
- We deliver results. Our work strengthens mission performance, improves operations, and builds lasting internal capacity.

Our Capabilities

CGS practitioners offer a diverse set of skills, with degrees and certifications in organization development, change management, public policy, strategy development, meeting facilitation, training, and project management. We customize our approach to each client engagement, grounding our work in research-based methods and tools. Every engagement is designed to strengthen effectiveness, reduce waste, and maximize return on taxpayer investment. Our services include:

- Streamlining and Optimizing Structures and Processes
- Strengthening Mission Focus and Alignment
- Realigning Performance to Priorities
- Identifying Evidence-Based Improvements

Our team is practical, collaborative, and disciplined. We take pride in our ability to navigate complex environments, surface critical insights, and enable progress—without disrupting operations. Our approach ensures that federal resources are directed toward the highest-value activities, enhancing transparency, accountability, and mission delivery.
